Make The News 2017 is an exciting six week project from

YORKSHIRE Evening Post

Your students will discover how news is researched, written and turned into the daily newspaper.

With tips from real journalists, they will be guided through a six week reading discovery programme using copies of the YORKSHIRE Evening Post for study, which are delivered to your schools once a week for six weeks.

At the end, using materials supplied in your easy-to-use Class Kit, you will be given the chance to create your own YORKSHIRE Evening Post FRONT PAGE, send them to the editor, Hannah Thaxter, for judging . . . and win the chance to have a LEEDS UNITED player visit your schools to be interviewed by you and your friends!

WHAT DOES IT COST?

Make The News costs just £2.00 per student. For this, you receive a comprehensive Class Kit, an fun and educational activity book for each student and a copy of the YORKSHIRE Evening Post delivered to your school once a week for six weeks.

At the end of the project, all students receive their own Celebration Certificate . . . and the chance to ENTER OUR GREAT CONTEST!
